KinderKonzert - Peter and the Wolf

On Wednesday the Pre-School through Grade 2 went to Dyer Library in Saco to hear a woodwind quintet from the Portland Symphony Orchestra perform the classic "Peter and the Wolf". The students learned that the flute represented the bird, the oboe represented the duck, the clarinet represented the cat, the bassoon represented the grandfather, and the French horn represented Peter. An animated narrator from the Portland Symphony Orchestra, dressed as a hunter, and helped the children stay engaged in the story and made it even more fun by encouraging them to make specific gestures for each character. This was a fun way for children to learn about music.
